What revolving door? Garbage hauler hired Tolliver hired on merit

In regards to the Sound Off involving Westland's garbage hauler Painter & Ruthenberg: since when is it said that an employer cannot hire the person of their choice?

Bob Tolliver took a job with Painter & Ruthenberg after retiring from the city of Westland. Forget the fact that he was a dedicated employee for 28 years in this city, raised a family here and resides here. P & R obviously liked what they had dealt with in Bob Tolliver, or the job would not have been offered to him.

I sincerely doubt that one man could influence the city council into bidding or not bidding on a contract that is up. You obviously think he holds more power than he actually does, and in turn insult him as well as the city council with the accusation.

In my opinion, Painter & Ruthenberg hired the right man for the job, a doer, not a complainer. If people concentrated more on what's good for themselves and their families they might not have so much time to complain about others or their good fortune.

Car jacking comment considered pressure tactic for cell tower approval

I just watched the council meeting on cable TV. Mr. James said he hopes a car jacking doesn't happen before he can get another 140-foot cellular telephone tower approved in Westland. I can't believe he would say such a thing. How unbelievable?

Does he think this scare tactic will fool us? Forget it. Go ahead and approve it before you are voted out. We dare you.

A Price on Their Heads

The kid-filled jail at the Wayne Wheelfest raised $1,038 for Wayne-Westland Special Olympics last weekend despite the rain. Wayne Councilwoman Pam Dobrowolski fetched the highest bail after Mayor Bob Dickerson had her arrested Sunday. The mayor encouraged donations by raffling off a pair of Tiger tickets to contributors. The $1,038 will pay for athletes' events, travel, and equipment. The group's next fund-raiser features a softball game between Westland police and firefighters at 7 p.m. Sept. 15 at Central City Park in Westland. Photo by Ivan Helfman

Blaze called arson

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The cause of the smoky three million dollar blaze at Central Transportation International in Romulus on Aug. 20 has been officially listed as arson, but authorities said no suspects have been arrested at this time.

A major team of fire investigators declared last Thursday that one or more arsonists started the major blaze that heavily damaged a building on Ecorse Road and destroyed 60 trailers.

Mayor William Oakley praised the work of local firefighters and expressed deep thanks that no one was injured in the effort to extinguish the fire that darkened Romulus skies for many hours that day.

Traffic on Ecorse Road was also tied up or blocked for many hours while firefighter efforts continued.

"Any time we have a fire of this magnitude there is deep concern for the loss of life and property," Oakley was quoted as saying.

The mayor also extended major hopes that the "perpetrators will be caught and prosecuted."

The investigation team included members of the Romulus Police and Fire Departments, the Downriver Arson Task Force, The Michigan State Police Fire Marshall Unit, special agents from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) and the Detroit Police Department's K-9 Arson Unit.

While the investigation continues, a press release issued last week by Oakley's office stated "to maintain the integrity of the investigation, no further investigative information will be released."

Persons who have information on the fire are urged to call the toll- free hotline at 1-800-44-ARSON or 1-888-AFT-Fire.

According to reports there were 60 first responders, followed by about 40 fire investigators.

Oakley also expressed his thanks to members of the Taylor Fire Department and the Detroit Metro Airport fire department for their assistance in fighting the blaze.

Court denies 2 deepwell requests

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Two major deepwell related actions -- one relating to preemption of Romulus city ordinances and the other dealing with $100,000 damage claims against top city officials -- were denied by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Both actions were made effective Aug. 22 by the top court headed by Chief Justice Elizabeth Weaver.

The first case pressed by the city of Romulus was an appeal of a decision by the state's Appeals Court that had overruled a decision made earlier by Circuit Court Judge Claudia Marcum.

The Appeals Court ruled that state and federal agencies' decisions preempted local zoning ordinances.

The top court statement declared the city's request was denied "because we are not persuaded that the questions presented should be reviewed by this court.

The second case involved a $100,000 damage claim against former Mayor Beverly McAnally, Councilmen William Wadsworth, Randolph Gear, Michael A. Prybyla and then Building Department Director David Paul.

The damage claim was denied earlier by the state's Appeals Court. The Supreme Court ruled the appeal filed by EDS was denied again as "we are not persuaded that questions presented should be reviewed by this court."

The Romulus City Council was presented with the court's decisions just prior to Monday night's council meeting.

Prybyla told his peers on the council they should comment on those decisions, but others said they preferred to talk to their environmental lawyers before making any statements.

However EDS President Doug Wicklund declared "we are delighted that the Supreme Court has allowed the Court of Appeals' ruling to stand, thereby ending Romulus' ability to assert that the siting and operation of EDS' already constructed Wahrman Road deepwell is subject to local ordinances.

"In 1993 Romulus filed the lawsuit despite having received four legal opinions from their city attorney, which stated that the federal and state laws governing EDS' well 'preempted' Romulus' ordinances."

Wicklund's statement continued "the court also allowed the dismissal of our damage claim filed in 1996 against Romulus."

The EDS president then concluded "EDS will be consulting its attorneys to determine if additional claims may be made as a results of Romulus' wrongful commencement of the 1993 lawsuit on "preemption", which it lost in the Court of Appeals."

Romulus auction slated Sept. 8

Are you in need of a bicycle, four-wheeled vehicle, television, scanner or various style welders?

Those items and many others will be auctioned off at 2 p.m. Sept. 8 at the old Romulus Department of Public Works yard on Goddard Road. A preview of the sale items will begin at 1 p.m.

Rollo Juckette will act as the city's auctioneer.

All items will be sold on an "as is" basis and all items must be removed from the property that night unless other arrangements are agreed upon.

Restroom facilities are available.

Pigeon needs home

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Brown said the bird stayed on her shoulder as she got into her vehicle and drove home.

A handsome white pigeon with black tips on its wings is in need of a home, a Romulus woman revealed Monday.

Debbie Brown of 1611 Cedar Way revealed the pigeon landed on her shoulder as she stopped at a party store at Sibley and Middlebelt just before noon last Saturday.

Brown said the bird stayed on her shoulder as she got into her vehicle and drove home.

She feels that the pigeon may be someone's pet and is eager to return it to that family.

She has informed Romulus Animal Control Officer Kim Matthews of the find and also has informed representatives of the Wayne County Fair.

Fair leaders however feel the bird did not come from the recent County Fair operations, since it is not banded.

If Brown cannot find the potential owner of the pigeon, she is willing to turn it over to someone wishing to have it as a pet.

"It definitely needs a home and its own coop," she said.

Brown can be reached by calling 734-941-3789.

Market contest winners share recipes

By CAROL MARSHALL
MCN Staff Writer

The new-this-summer Belleville Farmer's Market held its first baking contest and awarded three local bakers prizes for their recipes for bread creations using vegetables.

The next contest will be held September 23 and will feature baked pie recipes using fruit. The Belleville Farmer's Market is held every Saturday between May 1 and October 31st from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Market coordinator Kay Atkins also reported with pleasure to the city council that even though the city agreed to launch the market and provide $500 for startup costs, it appears that the market has been self-supporting.

Following are the winners.

1st Place

Zucchini Muffin Squares

Submitted by Katie Held, Belleville

Ingredients

- 3 eggs
- 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 cup vegetable oil
- 2 cusps grated zucchini
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 3 cups flour
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. allspice
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 can well-drained pineapple
- 1 cup raisins

Directions

Cream eggs and sugar. Stir in oil, zucchini and vanilla. In a separate bowl, mix all dry ingredients plus the nuts. Slowly add to the egg mixture. Add raisins and pineapple. Bake in an 8 by 8 inch pan at 350 degrees for about 45 to 60 minutes. Makes about 12 squares.

2nd Place

Orange Cucumber Pecan Bread

Submitted by Kay Atkins, Belleville

Ingredients

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup oil
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup pureed cucumber
- 2 cups flour
- ¼ tsp. baking soda
- 2 tsp. cinnamon
- 3 tsp. vanilla
- 1 ½ Tbs. grated orange rind
- 1 cup nut meats

Directions

Beat sugar, oil and eggs until smooth. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Oil and flour two loaf pans. Pour half of batter in each and bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

3rd Place

Zucchini Bread

Ingredients

- 3 eggs
- 1 cup oil
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 3 cups flour
- 3 tsp. cinnamon
- ¼ tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- 2 cups grated zucchini (skin, seeds, and all!)
- ¼ cup (approx.) powdered sugar
- ½ Tbsp. (approx.) orange juice

Directions

Beat eggs and oil until foamy. Add sugar and vanilla and mix well. Add dry ingredients (except powdered sugar). The batter will be stiff. Stir in nuts and zucchini. Spread batter into two large or five small loaf pans that have been sprayed with a pan spray. Bake in preheated 325-degree oven. The two large loaves will take about 60-75 minutes. The five small loaves will take about 60 minutes. Test with a toothpick for doneness.

After removing from the oven, let cool in pan for 10 minutes, then remove from pans. Poke holes in the top of each loaf with a toothpick. Make a glaze from powdered sugar mixed with a small amount of orange juice to spread on top while still warm.

Oakwood Hospital officials in Wayne, employees and friends paused last week to pay tribute to a small cadre of dedicated volunteers and retirees during the hospital's "Retirees in the Year 2000" program. Special recognition was presented to Mae Fitch (standing, from left), Paul Horn, Donna Riggs and Dorothy Wells. The program's keynote speaker was Char Toivonen, who serves as Corporate Director of Philanthropy and Volunteers. Toivonen is pictured at far right.

Oakwood Auxiliary praised

They are four of a kind. And they are described by Oakwood Hospital officials as dedicated and hard-working and willing to serve their fellow beings.

The four - Mae Fitch, Paul Horn, Donna Riggs and Dorothy Wells - were recently honored by the Wayne-based hospital during the hospital's "Retirees 2000" program.

"These individuals were recognized as the first to retire from the Annapolis Auxiliary in the New Millennium," noted Mary Jo Hanson, Oakwood Annapolis Auxiliary president. "Each of these individuals provided many years of dedicated service to the organization and will be greatly missed."

A dinner and awards presentation was held at Roma Hall in Garden City and some 47 Auxiliary members showed up for the program.

Also attending the fete were Roxanne Gill and Sam Randazzo, Foundation staff members, and family members of those who were honored.

Char Toivonen, Corporate Director of Philanthropy and Volunteers, was the keynote program speaker.

In her brief speech, Toivonen recognized the retirees for their individual contribution of time and talent to making Oakwood Annapolis Hospital one of the most patient-friendly in the area and the state.

Hanson presented each honoree with a plaque, recognizing them for their many years of service. Each also received a table center piece, whose motif expressed the sentiments of the program.

Betty Rork, Hospitality Chairperson, was complimented on an exceptional job in organizing the menu, picking the center pieces and the lovely decorations.

Five Star Expos

Chambers to stage showcase

It will be a gala showcase of products and services.

And it also will bring together the resources of five local and area Chambers of Commerce to display the products.

The Chambers of Commerce of Wayne, Garden City, Westland, Redford Township and Dearborn Heights are holding their third annual Five Star Expo on Sept. 14.

Donna McEachern, Wayne Chamber of Commerce Director, points out that the expo serves many purposes.

"In this highly competitive business environment, it is important for companies to show case their products and services in as many venues as possible.

"Five Star Expo is an excellent opportunity for companies to do just that. In addition, the value of networking possibilities is another great reason to be part of the Five Star Expo," McEachern offered.

A networking champagne and hors d'oeuvres reception for business will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Tickets are priced at $10 for chamber members, and $20 for non-members.

The general public is invited to attend the Five Star Expo from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets for the Expos are $2. There will be delicious food samplings available, product demonstrations, door prizes and giveaways.

Orin Jewelers has also donated a mystery door prize.

The Five Star Expo will be staged at Joy Manor, 28999 Joy Road, just east of Middlebelt Road in Westland.

In addition to the Expo, there also will be a Five Star luncheon at noon on Sept. 12 at Joy Manor. Detroit Edison, joined by MichCon, will sponsor the luncheon.

Registration and reservations are due by Friday, Sept. 8.

Library to host SS forum

Worried that Social Security won't be there when you retire?

Or that the fund is underfunded?

Do you have a question about Social Security benefits?

Well, between the hours of 7 to 9 p.m. on Sept. 20, you'll have an opportunity to ask those questions, and others, during a Social Security Seminar hosted by the Wayne Historical Society.

The forum will be held at the Wayne Public Library.

Frances Savickis will present "Ten Things You Should Know About Social Security and More", and there will be a question-and-after period after Savickis's presentation.

Rep. Kelly honored by state library group

Out-going State Representative Thomas Kelly was named the recipient of a prestigious award last week.

The Michigan Library Association's Public Policy Committee this week selected the longtime lawmaker from the city of Wayne as its choice as the 2000 William P. Faust Legislator of the Year Award winner.

Kelly, who will leave office at the end of the year due to term limitations, has been a strong spokesperson for public libraries.

The library committee noted that "Representative Kelly received enthusiastic support for this award from the library community."

Edward Marman, president of the Wayne Public Library's board of directors, noted that the Kelly has had a'passionate commitment' to libraries.

"His compassionate commitment to libraries has been evident throughout his three years, not only in the abstract, but in action," Marman pointed out.

Local librarians, including Steve Gulvezan, director of the Inkster Public Library, agreed to Marman's assessment. Gulvezan noted that the local lawmaker has been a key player in Lansing for securing necessary funding to help finance various library needs and programs.

Thomas Kelly

"He (Kelly) has stressed in his communications with civic leaders, the need for quality public library service in this and every community," Gulvezan said.

From A. Michael Deller, director of The Library Network in nominating Kelly for the prestigious award, noted that, "His efforts in the State Legislature have mirrored his love of libraries and his concern for servicing the public well."

Kelly earned a Bachelor of Science in History and Education from Fordham University and a master's in Library Science from Long Island University, so his love of libraries started at an early age.

Kelly worked as a librarian at John Glenn High School in the Wayne- Westland Community School District, before he served on the Wayne City Council and in the State Legislature.

The Legislator of the Year Award was created by the Michigan Library Association in memory of the late Senator William P. Faust, who was a champion of Michigan libraries during his legislative career.

Kelly will be presented with the award during the annual conference of the Michigan Library Association held in Detroit in Early October.

Search goes on 'Forevers'

Officials of the Wayne-Westland Junior Miss organization say that they are continuing to seek former participants in any of the past Junior Miss pageants.

Pat Hermatz, president and co-chairperson of the annual pageant, said the past participants are part of the "Forevers" group that usually perform a skit prior to the program.

For more information, please contact Hermatz at 734-721-5220.

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

Summer camp offers fun, lessons in life

Summer camps are fun.

Children who participate in them usually get an opportunity to do things that they don't have time to do during the school year.

Some local children, thanks to Weed & Seed, joined others at the Youth Camp staged at the Selfridge Air National Guard Base.

This year's DEFY Camp was a collaboration between Flint, Highland Park, Inkster and Northwest Weed and Seed programs and officials, according to Jeannie Fields, Inkster Weed and Seed Project Director and Camp Coordinator.

Weed & Seed is a federally funded program that assists cities and communities to weed out criminal activity in a neighborhood and replace (seed) it with positive programs.

"The kids had fun and at the same time learned much about illegal drugs and the detrimental effects they leave on mind and soul," stressed Fields. "They also had an opportunity to hear from law enforcement officers on how to resist illegal drugs."

Fields pointed out that this year was the first year that the Flint Weed and Seed site joined the camp.

"We had 75 kids participating in the camp with 72 of them graduating, and that's quite an accomplishment in itself," Fields added.

Mentors for the camp included role models from Highland Park, Inkster and Northwest Detroit's Weed & Seed, as well as from the Selfridge Air National Guard Base Personnel, the United States Attorney's Office (Eastern District), which funds the local Weed & Seed programs.

Also participating in the camp were the Michigan National Guard Drug Demand Reduction Task Force, the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA), the Michigan State Police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as well as representatives of the Inkster, Flint, Detroit and Highland Park law enforcement agencies.

Fields was joined at the camp by April Walton, Inkster Weed & Seed Outreach Coordinator; Police Officer Jon Munson, Inkster Housing Police Officer; and Police Officer Aaron Peacock.

The camp participants had an opportunity to take part in such activities as swimming, aerobics, physical fitness pretest and post- tests. They also had an opportunity to experience, first hand, what it's like to tackle and obstacle course.

Of course, they also toured the Selfridge Air National Guard Base and its facilities.

It was not 'all fun' and no classroom exercises. They were involved in classroom text work that dealt with dealing with drugs in today's society. McGruff, the Crime Dog, made his appearance, while a Michigan State Police D.A.R.E. officer and her D.A.R.E. horse made their pitch to keep off illegal drugs.

D.A.R.E. stands for Drug Abuse Resistance Program, a program designed to help children say 'No' to drugs.

Participants also had an opportunity to hear Saul A. Green, the U. S. Prosecuting Attorney for the Eastern District of Michigan, U. S. Attorney's Office. Green stressed that illegal drugs remains a deep concern in our society and a concentrated effort - a war - against the proliferation of drugs continues. Law enforcement across the nation and joined their colleagues worldwide in the hopes of draining the source of drugs.

Campers also heard other prominent speakers as Harold Rachon, Detroit Police Department who has participated in the camp every year since 1997. Rachon discussed "Peer Pressure" with the campers.

Selfridge Air National Guard Base Air Force Honor Guard also showed children how to display and fold and how to respect and honor the American Flag.

Participating in the Fourth Annual Drug Education for Youth Camp also means taking part in physical activities tradittionally associated with camp. Above, children stage a tug of war as National Guard instructors carefully watch the battle line.

Local sorority members attend national convention

By MAUDE REID
MCN Special Writer

Seven members of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority represented the Inkster chapter at the National Convention (Boule) recently staged in city of Brotherly Love, Philadelphia.

Attending the convention were Marion Taylor, Beverlyn Jordan, Addie Faulk, Norena Lumpkin Knox, Carmen Lewis, Irma Watson and Mary Lester.

Also invited to the convention were members of the sorority's youth group, the Archonettes.

The Archonettes also came away from the convention with a second-place award for their efforts of putting together a scrapbook.

Sorors Addie Faulk and Irma Watson were installed as life-long members of the sorority.

Church to celebrate a 'Harvest of Hope'

By THEOLA JONES
MCN Special Writer

Pastor Isaac King Jr., and the congregation of Pentecostal Temple in Inkster, are pleased to inform the public about an opportunity to be a party of the exciting "Harvest of Hope - Inkster 2000", the evangelistic event of the year.

Activities are scheduled to take place on Saturday, Oct. 14, at the Pentecostal Temple Church of God in Christ. The church is located at 30043 Isaac-Margaret King Drive/ Parkwood in Inkster.

"Harvest of Hope" is a local Outreach Ministry that "partners with local churches and pastors to reach needy children and their families," church officials explained.

Free groceries will be distributed, health and job fairs will be offered as well as games for the children during the "Harvest".

The recipients are regarded as distinguished "Guests of Honor", and they will be invited also to accept Jesus Christ as their savior.

New believers will receive discipleship, materials, afterwards they will participate in local churches which will assimilate them into their fellowships for ongoing care and nurturing.

Plans are to host 5000 "guests of honor" on the campus of the Pentecostal Temple. There will be inspirational local speakers and Christian music artists who will be performing during this time.

Church officials say that they hope "Harvest of Hope" will become an annual event.

"We strongly believe as God's people, God is using the church to bring about the restoration and healing," said Ambassador in Christ and Events Coordinator Elder Scottie Jones.

For additional information regarding the event, please contact Pastor Isaac King Jr. (Overseer) at 734-722-3060 or Elder Scottie Jones (Coordinator) at 810-309-2380.

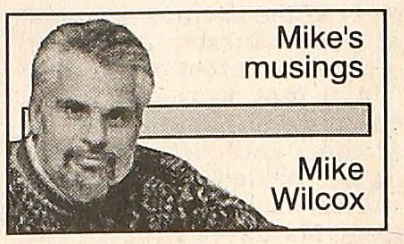
MSET deserves praise for destroying pornography



Mike's musings
Mike Wilcox

I'm going to toss the poison pen out the window and sprinkle around a few words of good cheer this week. The first sprinkles go to the Metro Street Enforcement Team, better known as MSET. In a few months time the elite police investigative squad funded by Inkster, Wayne, Westland, Garden City and Dearborn Heights has managed to do what others have been attempting for years - all but destroy the proliferation of pornography on Michigan Avenue. enue.

It was MSET that provided the evidence that persuaded a judge to issue warrants and shut down the Melody Theatre. The evidence was so strong it eventually forced owners to demolish the notorious x-rated theatre, deed the property to the City of Inkster and pay $1,000,000 to the five MSET communities as a barter agreement to minimize jail time.

That was then - several months ago, and this is now - the same scenario only across the street. The Book Shack was the subject of a highly publicized raid which resulted in the x-rated bookstore shutting down. MSET officers last November and December made purchases at the store, gathered evidence of prostitution and specimens of suspected semen. Their evidence was enough to get the green light to conduct the raid. One can only imagine the pornographic material that was found. Additionally, however, and this is hard to believe, police seized one million dollars in cash and other assets.

Turn the page a couple of days later. MSET stole the late news with word that they had raided an illegal odometer ring headquartered in Westland. The evidence gathered at this raid shows the alleged perpetrators turned back the odometers on hundreds of cars.

These are more than headline-grabbing activities. In the cases of the Melody and Book Shack, Inkster officials have been seeking to close these operations for years, and slick first amendment lawyers always managed to keep their clients open. MSET proved the right evidence could out-slick any lawyer.

We feel the officers of MSET deserve a huge pat on the back for making a difference in our communities. Keep up the good work, officers.

I'd like to sprinkle a few kudos to the direction of Pete Uhte, owner-manager of Advanced Resource Recovery in Inkster. Uhte purchased a hazardous waste processing plant on Princeton Street a few years ago, spending big bucks to first clean-up the site and then adding 30-plus jobs, many snatched up by Inkster residents.

Unfortunately, Uhte oftentimes gets a bad rap in the media. Partly because former owners ran in to all kinds of operational problems and generally are blamed for polluting the area, and partly because Advanced is situated near an incinerator and tire plant, Uhte gets blamed for an assortment of problems including the high cancer rate among neighbors and foul air.

Maybe the plant's past track record is suspect, but nowadays with Uhte at the helm, trust me, operations have improved 100-fold. For instance the only accepts nonhazardous waste waters and oil. Even though detractors may say otherwise, the truth is Advanced has no use for hazardous wastes. It should also be noted that Uhte has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to install a supplementary odor control system and an air scrubbing system to insure that odors are contained.

Most importantly, Uhte stands behind his word. If you got a problem with his plant go see him. "If there's a problem we want to know about," said Uhte, who is readily available at the plant each and every day. With this attitude Uhte deserves a few commendations. He has our respect, and I hopefully yours.

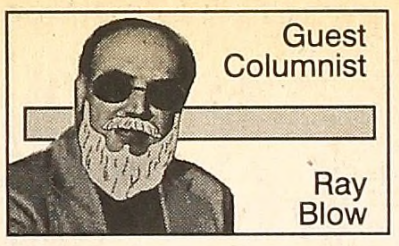
I'm constantly amazed at immigrant makes good stories. We have one right in our midst. It was only a few years ago that Bashar Almhiemid opened up the Beehive on Michigan Ave. in Wayne. I met him that day and like all new businessmen, he was certain about success. I was skeptical because this area hasn't been kind to restaurant owners and I could see another immigrant's savings go down the drain.

Wow, was I wrong! In a matter of weeks Bashar had customers waiting in line to be seated at the Beehive. His success was not in fancy décor or gourmet dishes, but rather a varied menu, large portions and low prices.

He has taken his concept elsewhere opening up a restaurant in Ypsilanti and taking over the catering at the Knights of Columbus in Wayne. Additionally this week he opened up the former Lerights restaurant on Wayne Road in Westland. It is aptly called the same, Beehive, with the same menu and same prices.

We wish Bashar all the luck in the world. Fortunately for him, he needs no luck. His hard work and ingenuity have made him a success.

Postcards weren't from Cox



Guest Columnist
Ray Blow

So I'm not in the Westland phone book. Big freaking deal. Like you gotta be in listed to smear Councilman Anderson.

Heck no, all it took was a stack of yellow post cards, a pipe full of crank, and I was James Carville and Cliff Johnson all rolled into one.

Zinged that Acura-driving sushi-eater between his chopsticks when I exposed him and his sidekick, Tricky Dick LeBlanc, for masterminding the recall.

Not my fault Westland voters sucked up to that import-lover. If there were a few more red blooded Americans left in Westland, then Scott would've kicked butt.

Should've held the primary at Bray's, where the Democratic donkey rules. No way Anderson could stand up to Belly Buster eaters.

But for all I've done, I can't even get credit for my postcards. Those recall bimbos think Councilman Dave Cox done 'em in Scott's Volkswagen, naturalized by UAW CAP during her campaign.

Right?! Like that dufus is any more in the Westland phone book then I am. Cox and his new squeeze were practically my neighbors when he turned in his council nomination petitions, yet folks dump on poor ol' Ray Blow as the intruder, not Cox. No, the bimbos give Cox all the credit for my work — ingrates!

What's a guy gotta do to get some recognition for his love of city.

What do I love about Westland?

Let's start with affordable housing. Thanks to Mayor Thomas's urban planning skills, we got subsidized apartments that, some say, only cost $199 a month, though you gotta buy and install your own medicine cabinets. Haven't found a deal this good since I hit the road when snotty Taylor tore down my old subsidized rental. Praise the mayor for not buying into this workfare scam. Us transients need a roof over our head too.

Then we got generosity. Thanks to the mayor's big heart, township employees get jugs of Absopure, free rental cars, and full gas tanks for business and pleasure. Thanks to the city council's munificence, certain citizens can get interest-free city lots for six months.

We also got religion. An occasional invocation at council meetings, Wiccans across the street from city hall, and devil worship at Eloise. Speaking of which, I read your article about how those punks sabotaged my Aug. 7 sacrifice on the top floor of Eloise.

After all the trouble I went through to build an altar, draw a pentagram, burn frankincense, chant the Black Mass, and sacrifice those cats so Satan would insure Sharon and Bob's elections. Spell wudda worked but for the brats tampering with the kitty offering — you know how fussy Satan is about botched sacrifices.

At least the spell didn't misfire as much as it did when I tried to bless the mayor's Merriman-area sewer separation that flooded 750 homes with raw sewage by sacrificing plump City Park pigeons. Sorry Bob, but it wasn't all for naught. At least you're eligible for the Guinness Book of Records for the most basements flooded by human excrement.

But don't worry. It won't happen again because the city council has banned pigeon feeding.

Anyway, I thought I'd use your rag to have a word with those recall bimbos. Chill out, bimbos. I'm the real deal. Though I must apologize for signing your recall petitions under 50 bogus names. But hey, I'm a lover, not a voter.

Meanwhile, it's time for another Anderson postcard.

Ray Blow is on parole. He is the author of two postcards attacking Councilman Glenn Anderson.

When Romulus residents or out-of-towners seek to appear on the City Council agenda as petitioners they are asked to fill out an agenda request.

That request says in bold almost 1/4 inch type "NOTICE: According to the City Council policy, it is MANDATORY that the petitioner be present in order to be heard by Council!"

That criteria was enforced very strictly about 7-8 years ago, but today it no longer is.

Obviously those seeking zoning changes do arrive...sometimes late, but they usually arrive that night.

When they do not...the council usually delays the petitioner's time period to later in the meeting.

But other times, when some petitioners enter agenda requests that are not considered controversial the council takes no pauses and votes on the request despite the printed notice.

Various "purists" as some governmental workers might call them...have asked this writer over the past two years to bring that issue to the attention of Mayor Pro Tem Randy Gear.

They want to know whether Gear feels that the official notice should be stricken from the agenda request or whether it should be added only in "sticker form" based on the issue that is to be addressed that night.

It is hardly a monumental issue — but this writer feels it is at least worth consideration for discussion.

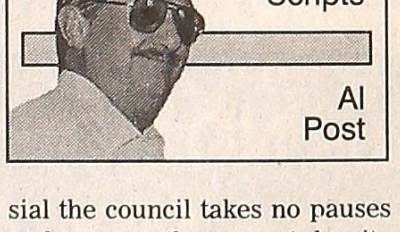
While it is true that few council members would oppose a request by a local church, VFW or social club, various citizens talking to the press feel it would help council members when the request also entails the use of police to fulfill their request for marches, etc.

Since petitioners are among the first on the agenda — it doesn't seem too strict to ask them to appear. They are free to leave after their issue is voted on.

On the other hand, maybe the petitioners will become interested in the local form of government and stay to the end.

Beware — they also will have the right to speak out on other issues on the agenda that night!

Romulus City Council's openess shows way



Medium Rare
Jim Rarey

In a front page story in the August 23rd Detroit News, reporter Katie Merx cited the cities of Westland and Warren as passing (or considering) city ordinances and council rules to limit the time and manner of public input at council meetings.

The article focused mainly on time limits and efforts to curb "rowdy" behavior at council meetings.

The controversy has been cast as a conflict between "free speech" and "civic order."

The first amendment to the US Constitution guarantees the people the right, "to petition the government for a redress of grievances" and prohibits government "from abridging the freedom of speech."

However, state law (and state attorney general opinions, which have the force of law until overturned by a court) gives councils the authority to limit the time allowed for citizen input.

In this writer's opinion, much of the frustration of citizens, that sometimes results in rowdy behavior, stems from the perception (and too often the reality) that councils are operating in secret and do not want the residents to know what they are doing.

In Warren, for instance, the council has adopted a "consent agenda" where even council members are prohibited from discussing (in public) the issues on which they are voting.

The State Open Meetings and Freedom of Information Acts are intended to give the public access to the same information council members have when they vote on issues.

Ideally, the public should have access to the same documents council members will have before the meeting, be allowed to speak on each issue on the agenda before the council votes, and also have a period where other issues not on the agenda can be raised.

Does such a procedure exist? Yes, in Romulus. Other cities could eliminate much of the frustration and controversy by adopting the Romulus example.

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

Were you denied an absentee ballot in Westland

To the editor:

The primary is over and the people who vote made their voices heard, and I say thank you.

But we still have the November election upcoming and we have the recall ballot for Sharon Scott in October.

The recall of Charles "Trav" Griffin, David Cox and David James is ongoing and should be completed with time to spare.

But what happened just before and during the primary has my blood boiling. We had a piece of garbage put out by the Citizens for Saving Westland. Do you want to take a wild guess as to who that is? But that was just the start.

A lot of voters who vote absentee ballots never got them, taking away their right to vote, but it still didn't change the outcome. So then after the primary, Bubba Davey and the bottom feeders are threatening the winner, Glenn Anderson, with a lawsuit, but it's not political.

YEH!!

They say they want an apology from Mr. Anderson asking the prosecutor's office to investigate if there was a violation of the Open Meetings Act or not, since on Jan. 18th all the bottom feeders would say they had good reasons but couldn't tell anyone (and they wonder why anyone would question them), but in February had a former department head say she lost the city thousands in overtime.

That's what former Mayor Councilman Tom Brown was talking about Aug.7th and had to make sure he didn't use the wrong noun.

A few council meetings later they said she had a poor performance rating (since the records from city hall were lost), but Sandra Cicirelli had the original ones at home, so that didn't fly.

Then we had the letter read by Bubba Davey Cox that he said he sent the prosecutor but later said he didn't say that; no matter it was a lie.

If any registered voters wanted more proof to sign a recall petition, then I hope the actions of these bottom feeders is all the proof you need.

As for the people who didn't get their absentee ballots, I ask you to invest the cost of a stamp and write to: James R. Davis - 1838 Christine St. Westland, 48186, letting me know just what you were told by them, along with your name, address and phone number. Then, I will have a better idea of just how many people had their vote taken away, and if it's what I think it is, together we'll take our shoe and stick it up their .....well, you know where.

For those reasons, I demand that you apologize to the people of Westland for your refusal to tell the truth of why you fired the city clerk Pat Gibbons and for your cheap stunt.

I also demand that you put it in writing and have it printed on the front page of both papers.

Knowing most people think this all started Jan.18th, I think you should try to tell the truth (but I doubt you can), then resign from your seats for the betterment of the city.

I know God will forgive you, but I'm not God, so, it will take a long, long time bottom feeders. - James R. Davis.

Investigate Penson's traffic stop arrest in City of Westland

Hi everyone. The Fab Four Lady here. As you all know, I am neither a politician nor a lawyer. I am basically a homebody with a number of hobbies and interests. But, I do know how to keep promises. And, recently, at the council meeting of August 7, I made one to Zenobia Penson. Namely, to speak, in her behalf, to the media.

This is the same meeting at which I sorta blew my cool with just about every group in Westland because I get so tired of hearing truth met with lies and trust with betrayals from so many people. And, many times, these are the very same people who say they want to get along and that they want change, and then they really don't care to listen when help is offered. I feel that people have had many years to learn to get along in Westland, and, if they haven't done it by now, there is a good chance that they never will. But, I thought that I would give it a shot and add my two cents worth, anyway.

It is hard to speak of love or to deliver a plan for world peace, so to speak, in a two or three-minute time frame while surrounded by rude hecklers, whoever they might have been.

But, next time I am heckled, I think that I will just opt to leave the building quietly. After all, who am I to ruin a heckler's party? I'll leave that to Ray Blow, possible brother of Joe. Sigh. I thought we had enough of these characters running around Westland.

Now, we have "The Blow Brothers," if anyone can find them. Maybe that's how they got their name. They decided to blow town!

Anyway, back to Zenobia. Of course, I was not there at the scene when her case was unfolding. But, Zenobia did come somewhat prepared, as she brought documentary photos to the meeting. Trouble is, however, there was light bouncing off of the photos and they were too distanced from the cameras to be viewed clearly by the television audience.

But, I was one of a number of people who did view them up close off camera. The photos showed her with a cast on her arm. Then there was her police report stating that she had a broken tail light, followed by the photos of her car showing NO broken tail light and I listened to her story, etc. Although the dates of the photos did not exactly match the date of the report, they were close enough to be in the same time frame that one might take to go get the photos developed. The dates were in the same month.

Though the photos and the report are helpful, not all of the evidence has yet been presented. And, I still have not heard the opposition's side of the story. But, even so, I do believe that there is enough circumstantial evidence to warrant an investigation. And for her to have legal representation. Free representation. Someone suggested calling the ACLU.

There is also the major problem of paying her medical bill of $643.00. City Attorney, Angelo Plakas, and Council member Glenn Anderson were shocked when I showed them the photos. Angelo then told me that if Zenobia wanted to get anything going on this case, that she must start by going to the Westland police station and filling out a complaint form. However, that is another problem, because Zenobia had already expressed to me that she was afraid to go near said station. After I related that fact to Angelo, he then said that she could send someone else to get the form. Out in the hallway, during the meeting, Zenobia said that she even was afraid to leave the meeting, for fear of being followed home and harassed by the police. This was her side.

As I said, I told Zenobia that I would mention her to the papers. And, that was all I could think of to do, at this time. This is, aside from talking to Glenn, Angelo, and ing to Glenn, Angelo, and Emery Price, who I talked to briefly after the meeting, about police/citizen relationships. All I can do is try to get people to communicate with each other and follow through with solutions. By the way. I do not believe that anyone should postpone problems to a later date, as so many do.

There was her police report stating that she had a broken tail light, followed by the photos of her car showing NO broken tail lights.

Whatever did or did not happen with Zenobia, I know she needs legal help. Please somebody -- anybody -- get ahold of Zenobia and review her case. Zenobia told me that, at this point, she is ready to lose her credit standing over this debt. And, if anyone does care about her, don't just quickly dismiss her after a cursory glance at the photos and papers. Please put your heart and soul into this case. Listen to any witnesses that might come forward. Give suggestions. If you find her to be an innocent victim, please vindicate her.

Whatever has happened, I do know one thing. That Zenobia, the gentle, quiet lady in the Teddy Bear T-shirt, is living in fear, for whatever reason. Fear is one thing I understand very much. Especially after three rapes, years ago.

And please, remember what I have told so many: I believe there are both good and bad in every group. This includes the citizens and the police. We cannot condemn all of the citizens nor all of the police.

And, Zenobia, I did keep my promise to you. God be with you.

The Fab Four Lady,
Angela Frances Todd

Woolf Aircraft Products attracts 500 to tour

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

More than 500 persons – including employees, their families, customers and vendors – attended the recent three-day open house at the Romulus-based Woolf Aircraft Products facility.

Dan Woolf, company president, revealed the open house was created to instill extra pride in the new company employees as they were encouraged to provide personal tours about the Cogswell Road plant for family members.

The company traces its history back to 1942, when its founder Clarence Woolf (an expert welder) rented a small two car garage in Wayne to begin his aircraft products firm.

Woolf – who also served as a Wayne City Councilman from 1964-66 – constructed various kinds of tubing for planes and cars over the years and also built early TV antennas.

The work site continued to grow in the Wayne area and finally moved to Romulus in 1987 so that future plant enlargements could easily be created as needs arose.

Woolf is proud of its success in the plane and racing car fields – having created the pipe systems for several championship cars that raced both at the LeMans and the Indianapolis competition sites.

Woolf is equally proud of his employees – today numbering about 85 (including part-time workers).

Wayne church wins grant to create learning center

By AL POST

Collection agency targets deadbeat bookworms

Retrieving overdue library books swamped the 18th District Court. So the William P. Faust Public Library of Westland Library Board voted at its June 2000 meeting to hire a collection agency to get books and other loaned materials back from patrons.

"We are only submitting 30 a month for prosecution," said Joe Burchill, assistant director. "We are trying to use the collection agency as a first step."

In February 1999, the city criminalized the theft of library materials, making it a misdemeanor punishable by fines and probation.

Tardy bookworms who returned materials before their court date usually received $100 fines and three months probation under advisement. If the borrowers obeyed library rules during the three months, their records would be purged of the incident.

Borrowers who don't return their late materials before their court date usually received $200 fines and six months probation under advisement. These borrowers have to obey library rules for six months to get their criminal library records cleaned of the library theft. But none of the cases have gone to trial. Most defendants copped pleas. A few beat the book theft charges.

High theft rates led to the stiff penalties.

"We have over $95,000 worth of materials that have not been returned," said Sandra Wilson, library director.

"We have a backlog of over two years," said Burchill. "This results in bad addresses and an inability to trace the borrowers."

Consequently, the library turned to Unique Management Services, who will charge deadbeat bookworks a $10 service fee. Unique Management works with libraries throughout the United States and several area libraries such as Brighton and Livonia.

"This decision was made with fairness to all library patrons in mind," said Burchill. "When materials are not returned, they are not available for others to use or borrow. Further, money from the library budget is used to replace items which could much better be used to purchase new items for patron use instead of replacing non-returned items."

"We hope that this practice will encourage all library borrowers to return items by the due date," said Wilson. "The use of a collection agency will be our first step in an effort to retrieve delinquent materials."

Before siccing the collection agency on patrons with overdue materials, the library will send out overdue notices.

"Referral to the collection agency will happen only if people ignore our first two notices," said Wilson "This new procedure will affect a small percentage of our patrons. Most people return their items on time."

Phoneless witness watches burglars escape

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Two burglars would have been dead meat – if the witness had only let her fingers do the walking.

But the witness, a Westland woman who watched one of the burglars, a 5-foot-7-inch 120 pound black woman, break into a home on the 34000 block of John Hauk, didn't have a telephone. So the burglar and her lookout, a tall thin black man, got away before Westland police were notified.

Though the witness couldn't call police, she waited for the resident, a 35-year-old woman, to return home almost two hours later.

She climbed through a front window while the man sat on the house's front porch.

The break-in occurred near noon a week ago Friday, but before the burglars struck, they approached the witness and asked her where an unidentified man lived.

Not thereabouts, she replied; and the couple left.

Shortly they returned to the home on John Hauk. The woman scrutinized the windows, as if making sure no one was home. Then, carrying a grocery bag, she climbed through a front window while the man sat on the house's front porch.

A few minutes later, the woman climbed back out the same window. Both ran until the witness lost sight of the thieves and their grocery bag.

When the resident returned, she called police. She couldn't figure out what, if anything, was stolen. However, the burglar damaged the front window during the break in, and the resident hopes to prosecute.

'Lucky to win' opener, Salem clashes with state champ next

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Four fumbles inside the enemy's 10 yard line.

An interception that takes the wind out of the sail that had TD on it.

Doesn't sound too good.

But, that's what Plymouth-Salem had to play over Friday night at Ann Arbor Pioneer before coach Tom Moshimer and the Rocks pulled out a 7-0 opening night victory.

"We're lucky to win - that's all there is too it," said Moshimer after the game. "You don't fumble and give up the ball on turnovers the way we did and expect to win. But we did. And that's the bottom line."

The Rocks may need more than luck to stretch their streak. Friday night, Salem will host Walled Lake Western, the defending Western Lakes Conference and Division I state champs.

Western dropped their opener to Birmingham Brother Rice, one of the powerhouses in the state this year, 28-14.

"They (Western) may have lost a few kids off of the team that won the state title, but they still have an excellent team. If we make the kinds of mistakes we did against Pioneer, the outlook will be obvious," Moshimer stressed.

With the exception of Western, all the other Western Division teams - Livonia Churchill, Livonia Franklin, Northville and Plymouth-Canton won their openers.

Canton jumped on Ypsilanti 35-6 for their best start in recent years. The Chiefs got touchdowns from Dave Kobas, Jerry Gaines, Chris Smilo, and Chad Fuller in the rout.

But Salem waited until the final 1:38 of the game before the Rocks managed to break into the Pioneer end zone. Senior running back Brandon Ellison drove in from the one-yard line after a 58-yard drive.

James March kicked the extra point.

It didn't have to go to the wire.

Salem had three excellent opportunities to cash in. On three separate occasions they drove inside the 10, and in one drive they came up one- yard short before they fumbled.

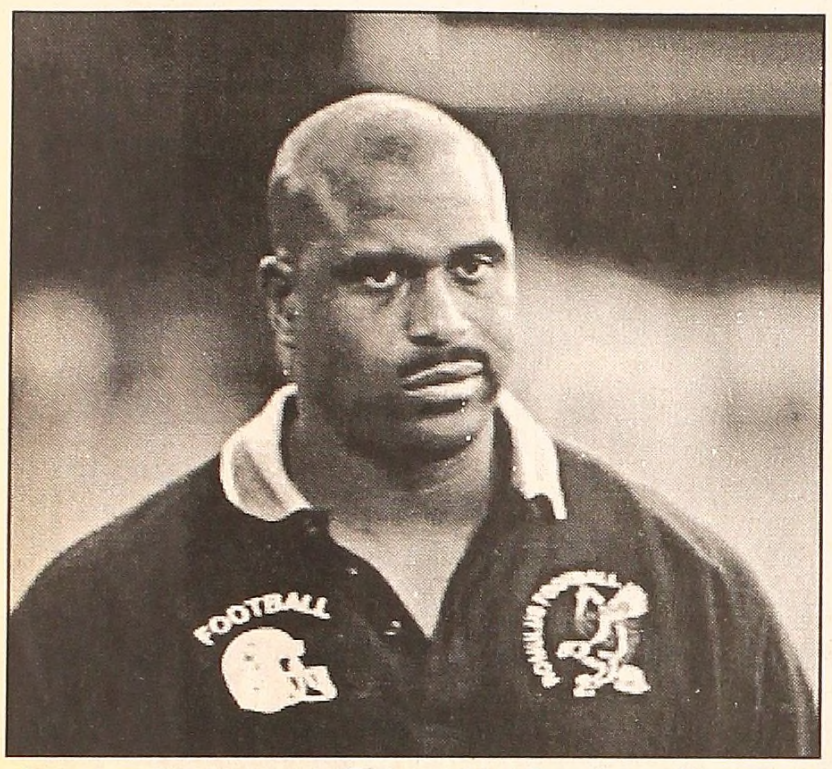
And that had to hurt.

Salem dominated the stats. The Rocks amassed 369 - 217 rushing and 157 passing - net yardage with Ellison accounting for 128 of those on 24 attempts. Quarterback Dave Hoskins completed five off 11 passes of which split end Kevin Kneiding caught two of them.

"We moved the ball offensively and we played well defensively, but when it came time to enjoy the benefits of our work, we just couldn't get the job done," Moshimer added.

Moshimer did praise linebacker Wes Boyd and Ellison, who also played strong safety, for their performances on defense. The secondary allowed three of 16 Pioneer passes to reach receivers.

Western lost its opener to Birmingham Brother Rice, 28-14.



A new coaching era began Friday night at Romulus as Wade Cook (above) assumed the job as head coach. The transition from former coach Mark Woodson, who accepted an assistant coaching job at neighboring Eastern Michigan University, to Cook was a successful one as the Eagles presented their new coach with a 40-0 victory over Wayne Memorial. Romulus crushes Wayne, 40-0

Pair of juniors lead way

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With running backs Charlie Searcy and Fred Harbor teaming up to score a total of five touchdowns, Romulus Friday night ganged up on Wayne Memorial, 40-0, in the season's opener for both teams.

Both juniors, Searcy and Harbor wasted little time establishing themselves as premier running backs in the area this year.

The game also ushered in a new era at Romulus. It introduced Wade Cook as the new head coach at Romulus.

And Cook said he liked what he saw Friday night.

"We had first-night mistakes, but generally the kids got the job done."

On the first play from scrimmage, in the opening quarter, Searcy took a handoff from quarterback David Jarrett, darted off right tackle, bounced off of one Wayne defender, then spun into the open and raced 88-yards for the Eagles' first touchdown of the 21st century.

Steve Moore then put his toe into the ball and got his first PAT of the season and, with 9:03 on the clock, Romulus had a 7-0 lead.

Shortly afterward, Searcy and the Eagles struck again. Quarterback David Jarrett engineered a 13-play, 77-yard drive that culminated with Searcy's lunge from the one into the end zone.

Moore's kick sailed wide of the upright.

Romulus turned it into a 20-0 rout when Jarrett used up all of four plays to move the Eagles deep into Wayne territory. On the fourth play in the series, Harbor went up the middle but fumbled at the two. The junior running back managed to recover the loose ball in the Wayne end zone for the TD.

After Wayne again failed to generate any offense and was forced to punt, Jarrett & Co.

Inkster crowns tennis champs

More than 100 local and area amateur male and female tennis players competed last week in the 22nd annual Inkster Parks and Recreation Tournament.

The tournament was staged on courts adjacent to the Booker T. Dozier Parks and Recreation Complex.

The weekend tournament provided some interesting match ups, and also provided winners and runners up with trophies.

In the Men's Open competition, Detroiter Kane Hunter turned back local favorite Richard McGinnis of Inkster. Hunter posted 7-6 and 6-2 victories over his opponent.

In the Men's 35 & Over, it was Austin Amene of Oak Park who surfaced as the champ. He disposed of Reginald Davis of Detroit, 6-2, and 6-0 in the finals.

In the Men's 45 Single, Southfield tennis enthusiast Jerry Brooks posted a 6-2, 6-1 triumph over his opponent, Henry Ewell, also of Detroit, while in the Men's Doubles competition, Tom Hayes teamed up with Spike Lloyd of Detroit and defeated longtime player and Robichaud coach Jim Hadley and E. Khubarjari of Dearborn Heights in a pair of 6- 1 sets.

McGinnis and Frank Hayes of Inkster teamed up to win the top prize for the Men's Open Doubles as they defeated Carl Gillespie of Romulus and J. Banks of Southfield.

In the Mixed Doubles, Austin Amene of Oak Park and Connie Edwards of Detroit wound up in the winner's circle after defeating Penny Watkins and Ronnie Parker, both of Detroit.

And in the Women's Singles, Gina Carter of Romulus was presented the first place trophy when and injury sidelined Leslike Brown of Southfield.

Wolves to hold tryouts

The Wolves are holding tryouts for their 2001 baseball team.

A travel baseball club, the Wolves are looking for players in the 14 and under and the 12 and under age categories.

Teams will be traveling out of state to compete in a few select tournaments.

After loss to Kettering, Rockets need a jump start

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After a disappointing 25-7 setback on opening day, Westland John Glenn head football coach Chuck Gordon and staff may be in the market for something or someone to jump start the Rockets.

The Rockets looked anything but impressive Friday afternoon against a Kettering team that broke a 7-all first half score with three unanswered second half touchdowns.

Friday night, Glenn will have a Parents' Night crowd in the stands for its Western Lakes Conference opener. The Westlanders will be entertaining Livonia Churchill, and it's questionable after Glenn's opener who will be entertaining whom.

Churchill appears to have the horses to give any team a run for its money. Sparked by senior fullback Rob Wilson and Dammar Davis, the Chargers buried Redford Union, 28-8, in its non-conference opener.

The Rocket defense will have to find a way to neutralize Wilson, who rushed for 115 yards and scored two of his team's four touchdowns against the Redford Township high school.

Defense - the lack of it - definitely led to Glenn's demise against a Kettering team that used its speed in the backfield and its might in the trenches to defuse the Rockets.

If there was a bright spot for the Westlanders it came in the form of Dan Smitherman's overall performance.

Smitherman managed to chalk up 121 yards in 20 attempts. It was the senior tailback's 62-yard dash off tackle in the second quarter that provided the Rockets with their first touchdown of the season.

Senior Matt Berent, the last of a line of outstanding athletes in his family, booted the extra point that tied the game at 7-all at the half.

While the Glenn defense rested after the initial half, Kettering didn't. The Detroiters

Grosse Ile rewrites script in Robichaud play

Islanders avenge last year's loss to Bulldogs in final minute, 16-12

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

First, let's set the stage.

It's the opening game of the 1999 high school football season and Grosse Ile is entertaining Robichaud and first-year coach Mark Medlock on the island.

Trailing by six in the final minute, Robichaud rallies and beats the Islanders in the final minute, handing the Bulldog coach his first victory as head coach.

Fast-forward to the present.

Friday night, with temperatures well into the 80's and with a more than usual home crowd on hand for their opener, Robichaud has moved to the front, 12-9, against the visiting Islanders, and less than a minute separates the Bulldogs for an impressive come-from-behind victory.

Get me a rewrite, person, please. Here we go:

Grosse Ile quarterback Danny Cowley suddenly spots a weakness in the Robichaud secondary. He back-pedals as the defense swarms in on him, but the sophomore quarterback manages to release the ball and fires a 26-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver, Drew Wippich.

Wippich scored what proves to be the decisive TD in the non-conference drama.

It is a disappointing script for Medlock and the Bulldogs.

Wippich's 37-yard catch set up the winning touchdown in the 16-12 game.

"Those two plays killed us," admitted Medlock later. "I thought we had them when we came back and scored the go-ahead earlier in the fourth. But, the game developed like almost identically as it played a year ago, unfortunately this time we came out on the short end of the stick."

A scoreless first quarter, the Islanders broke the goose-egg late in the half when they cashed in on a safety to take a 3-0 lead.

The Bulldogs came back after the half and scored on sophomore quarterback Andre Harris' pass to Marcus Johnson.

The Bulldogs opted to go for two, but didn't make it.

The Islanders returned to the lead when running back Justin Smelter broke loose off tackle and wound up in the Robichaud end zone.

Smelter had an excellent afternoon against the Robichaud defense as he rushed for 137 yards in 25 attempts.

It was Martez Hardy, Robichaud's tailback, who lifted the club into the lead again. He scored on a midfield run that put the hosts up 12- 9. Robichaud managed to defend the lead until 1:59 remaining when they came up the ball on a punt, and the Islanders went to work and eventually cashed in on two successful passing plays.

Despite the letdown in the secondary, Medlock was pleased with the overall performance of his team. He came back with a three-play, 52-yard sustained drive that ended with Harbor's 38-yard touchdown sprint. Moore's kick made it a 27-0 game as time ran out in the initial half.

Romulus

Searcy and Jarrett each scored touchdowns in the third quarter that accounted for all of Romulus's scoring.

Again, following the same pattern he used in the opening series, Searcy broke loose for another 87-yard TD jaunt, and Moore booted the extra point to make it 34-0.

With 3:54 left in the quarter, Jarrett strung together a 65-yard drive that he finished with a one-yard keeper.

Searcy launched his junior year with an incredible performance. He rushed for 209-yards on six attempts and had three touchdowns. Harbor cashed in four of his rushes for 43 yards and two TDs.

Cook was pleased with his team's performance but noted that the Eagles made some mistakes that may prove costly if not corrected in future games.

"We had seven penalties for 55 yards, and there is no reason for that."

He also commended the efforts of wide receiver Chris Talley and split end Michael Woods. Defensively, the Romulus coach said that outside linebacker Western, who had a total of 17 tackles and a sack, and Ray Graves, also a linebacker, carded eight tackles, including three QB sacks.

Romulus takes on Taylor Kennedy Friday night in a Mega Conference, Blue Division game. Kennedy lost its opener to Woodhaven, 33-6.

In the meantime, Wayne Memorial will attempt to pick up the pieces Friday night at Dearborn Fordson.

The game is the Mega Conference Red Division opener for both teams.

Although Fordson had a mediocre 1999, Wayne coach Floyd Carter believes the Tractors "are very hungry" and a team to reckon with this year.

"We didn't match up with Romulus - they just have tremendous size and speed, and just one tremendous team," Carter said. "On the other hand, I have had an opportunity to see Fordson scrimmage. I think we match up better with them.

"But you know how Fordson is - they like to come right at you. They will be tough."

Wayne definitely will have to beef up its offense. The Zebras had only two first downs against Romulus - one each passing and rushing. Quarterback Matt Patterson was hounded by Romulus throughout the game and couldn't find space to move.

Script

commended the stellar performances of Johnson, a middle linebacker who accounted for 10 solos and a sack; Bradford Brown, defensive tackle, "who was all over the place"; and Otis Smith, a 5-9, 249 tackle who also stood out.

"It's always heartbreaking to lose a game, and doubly so when it's the opener," Medlock said. "You just hope that it doesn't set the tempo for the rest of the season. We got a lot more challenges ahead of us." us."

Robichaud will open the Mega Conference, Gold Division phase of the season 4 p.m. Friday against a quick and physical Willow Run. The Flyers are coming off of an impressive victory over Redford Union.

Glenn

shut down the Rocket machine in the third quarter while they put two TDs on the scoreboard to go-ahead for good.

Glenn's sophomore QB Brian Cechiewicz got off to a shaky start as he failed to complete a pass in eight attempts.

Despite defensive end Randy Sinott's heroics - he accounted for an interception, Glenn's overall performance was lacking in almost every category.

Westland's Benninger shares WSGA golf lead

It was a duel right to the 18th hole and neither Carolyn Benninger of Westland or Redford's Nancy Wilkie could boast victory at the end.

Instead, Benninger and Wilkie were forced to share First Flight medalist honors in the Women's Suburban Association weekly competition staged this week at Fenton Farms Golf Course.

Dearborn Heights' Lil Vandenbroker was awarded runner-up honors as she toured the 18-holes with a 92.

In the same flight, but in the Low Net battle, Ginny Karolak posted a three-stroke victory over Birmingham's Pat Meyers. Karolak had a 70.

In the meantime, over in the second flight, Gwen Wyer surfaced as the winner in the Second Flight. She finished the round with 100. Two golfers - Carol Farwell, of Southfield, and Dolly Vettese of Northville finished with 103's for second place.

The Low Net honors went to Dearborn Heights' Mary Ann Kraft, who had a 75 for her victory. Kraft's score was three-strokes better than second-place finisher, Bernie Evans.

WYAA is seeking volleyball players

Westland Youth Athletic Association officials announced this week that they are accepting registration for the upcoming volleyball season.

Registration is being accepted from 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday and from 10 a.m. until noon on Saturday, at the Lang Compound, located at 6050 Farmington Road.

For more information about the program please contact Mark Rodriques at 734-721-5786.

WYAA informational text may also be found on the Internet. The address is www.wyaa.org

The WYAA also announced this week that they will be honoring the members of the 1990 Junior Varsity Comets, a team that won the Super Bowl Championship a decade ago.

The team reunion and program is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 24 and former team members are requested to contact Keith DeMolay at 734-722-1251.

The ceremony will be staged during the halftime of the Comets and Farmington Rockets' Junior Varsity game.

Unbeaten Twisters stretch winning streak to 6 games

Despite a sloppy and wet field made for "mudders", the Twisters managed to hang on to a 15-10 victory over the Thunder from Lima, Ohio, to stretch their winning streak to six in the Lake Shore Conference Semi-Pro Football League.

"The field was slippery and that obviously negated our speed in the backfield," said Glenn Brothers, Twisters' CEO. "Despite the inclement ground conditions, we managed to hang tough and win a tough game."

Tough doesn't actually describe the game.

After one period, and for the first time this year, the Twisters found themselves looking at a deficit score. They trailed Lima 10-0 after one, before the Twister defense got serious and shut their LSFC rivals out for the rest of the afternoon.

With a minute left in the first half, the Twisters had surrendered a total of 104 yards on offense from the line of scrimmage, and the picture looked as bleak as the weather.

The 104 yards given up by the defense represents the average of the team's past five games.

"This was truly our first breakdown on defense this season," stressed Brothers. "But fortunately it did not last as the coaching staff made the necessary adjustments, effectively, shutting down the Thunders' elusive running backs, Jeremy and Jerome Botts."

The Botts brothers were the mainstay of the Lima assault, an assault incidentally that provided the Thunders three victories in their last three starts. Both brothers were averaging 100-yard rushing each in their final three games.

The Twisters rallied, ironically thanks to Lima's misfortunes. Ohio committed a couple of key turnovers that set up Twister scores. The Thunder went silence as they executed only eight offensive plays from the line of scrimmage. They had the ball for one play in the third period which resulted in a lost fumble and seven plays in the fourth and final period losing two more additional chances due to fumbles.

While misfortunes hit the Thunder, the Twisters' offense maximized their chances as Rob Elswick completed a 10-yard pass to Reggie Brandon, who raced 19 more yards to the Thunders' two-yard line. That set up the Twisters' first score. With 37 seconds left in the first half, behind the blocking provided by KenSzmansky, David Banks, and Walt Steffe, Pat Bowie scored the Twisters' first TD.

Chuck Lauber then booted the extra point, making it a 10-7 ball game.

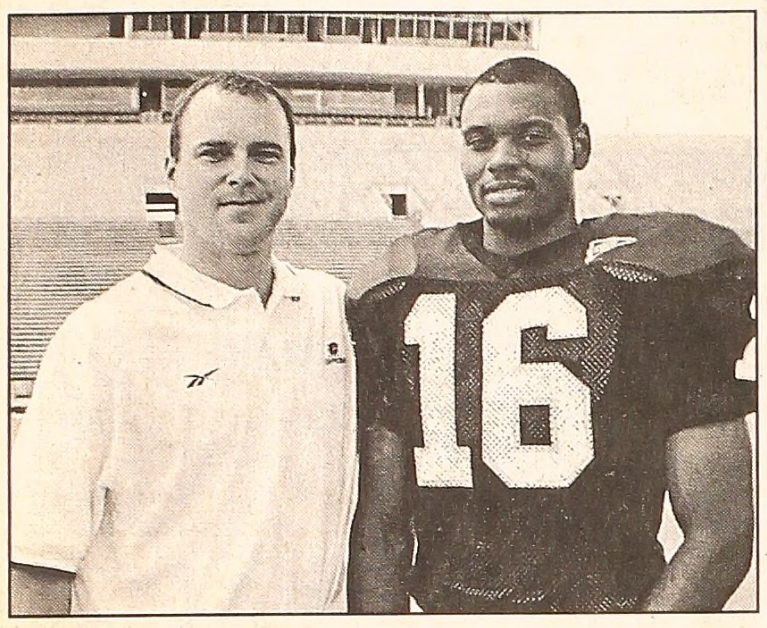
After the half, the Twisters came back and dominated the second half. In the third period, Elswick engineered a 75-yard drive that culminated with the Twisters putting the winning touchdown on the scoreboard early in the fourth quarter.

With a first and goal on the Thunders' one, Elswick, on a QB sneak behind a big push provided by the heart of the Twister offensive line, opened the way to Elswick's TD.

The Twisters got the point-after only after an errant snap was scooped up by Matt Graca, who eluded the defense and scampered into the end zone.

Secured with the victory, the Twisters remain the only undefeated team in the Lake Shore Football League as the conference breaks for the Labor Day holiday.

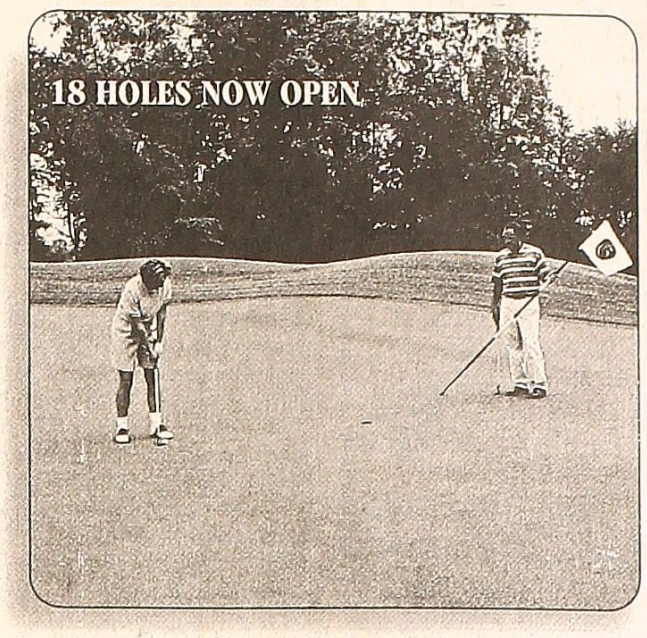
On the defensive side of the ball, George Shanlikian, who replaced All-American Bob Pensari, sidelined with a leg injury, recorded five solo tackles and 40 assists.



'Central attraction'

Former Robichaud High star Roderick Mean (No. 16) is continuing his collegiate football career in Mt. Pleasant at Central Michigan University. Pictured with assistant CMU coach Jason Carr, Mean is a wide receiver who will be seeing plenty of action this season. CMU will open its 2000 campaign at 1 p.m. on Sept. 2 against Purdue. The Chippewas home opener at Kelly/Shorts Stadium is scheduled for Sept. 9 when they entertain Akron.

Gateway Golf Club
"Your Place to Play"



18 holes, practice facility and Pro Shop are now open. Gateway, the first premier residential golf community developed near the Metro Airport, will feature 650 single family homes and condominiums. Jerry Mathews and his associate, Denny Spencer designed an 18 hole 6822 yard championship layout that provides target definition both off the tees and into the greens. One of our goals Spencer said, "was to try and create golf holes that look much more difficult than it actually plays." This allows golfers to be challenged yet gives them far greater chances for success than it may first appear. Forgiving bentgrass fairways, large greens and four sets of tees on each hole also provide a true test for all levels of play. Complete practice facilities for learning and improving will complement the teaching programs available through the Gateway Golf Academy.

Western Wayne woman heads VFW Auxiliary

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Patricia Jankowski of Garden City pressed Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary members to "remember the sacrifices of American veterans" as she was installed as the national president of the auxiliary.

Jankowski, who is beginning a two-year term, also is encouraging auxiliary members to raise $3 million for the Auxiliary Cancer Aid and Research Fund.

During her term covering the years 2000-2001, Jankowski will be visiting every state.

She is a life member of Northville Auxiliary No. 4012 and has served as auxiliary, district and state president and was the 1990-91 Outstanding President of the Year in her membership group, when she served as state president.

Jankowski owned a craft and gift business for several years and has taught crafts to grade schoolers.

Jankowski was elected to serve as five national offices leading to the National Presidency. As a member of the Blazzette Color Guard for five years, she holds two bronze and one silver medal for competition at the National VFW Convention. She also has a Canadian American Champion Medal.

Previously Jankowski earned the National-de-Camp status for recruiting members in 1989 and served as National Flag Bearer, National Cancer Aide and Research Director and national director for the VFW National Home program.

She is married to John Jankowski, who served in the U.S.Army in France from 1959-62 and today is employed as a plant manager.

Jankowski owned a craft and gift business for several years and has taught crafts to grade schoolers and provided costumes for many grade school plays.

Oakwood Hospital executive honored

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Carla O'Malley, executive director of the Oakwood Hospital Systems' community development unit, has been awarded a Special Service award from the National Association for Women's Health.

O'Malley was cited outstanding individual achievement and influence in women's health and for demonstrated ability to lead and inspire others toward improved care for women.

The award is presented to a pair of leaders – one who functions on a regional basis and the other on a national basis.

O'Malley was honored for optimizing the breast care program across the hospital system through state of the art technology and reduced time from diagnosis to surgery; developing an agreement between Oakwood and First Step, a domestic violence shelter.

Oakwood Healthcare Inc. CEO Jerry Fitzgerald stated "it is an honor to have dedicated persons like Carla working to improve the health of our community."

Carrie Susan Laubernds of Westland was recently selected to participate in the Nationals' 2000 Miss Pre-Teen Detroit pageant competition that will take place on Sept. 17.

She learned of her acceptance into this year's competition as Nationals Inc. announced their selection on Monday.

She will be competing for part of the $20,000 in scholarships, prizes and specialty gifts at the regional level.

Personality is one of the top aspects that leads to winner selection, contest organizers revealed.

Earlier she had submitted her application and took part in an interview with Patty Neidert, this year's pageant coordinator.

Girls from age 7 to 23 compete in five different categories in the contest.

Carrie Susan Laubernds

If Carrie wins she will represent Detroit and the surrounding communities at the National Competition in Orlando, Fla.

At that level contestants compete for a share of the $60,000 in prizes. She also will enjoy this expense paid trip to Orlando lasting five nights and six days.

In her spare time, she enjoys basketball, volleyball, soccer, track and swimming.

Community businesses, organizations and private individuals will assist Carrie in participating in this year's competition by becoming one of her official sponsors.

Any such business, organization or person wishing to become her sponsor should call Neider at 1-800-569-2487.
